

Adrenaline | Self-Test

Adrenaline is the drug of choice of a stressed society. Furthermore, most people are connected in some way with a stressed environment, which is why so many of us over-use our adrenaline. Originally, adrenaline was 'developed' to give us a jolt of superhuman energy when faced with a threat. But now, we use adrenaline in order to get an exciting rush or 'high.' We have nothing against adrenaline highs—in fact, they can be quite fun. However, there are both physical and emotional/spiritual costs. Physical in terms of the overuse of the adrenal gland, and the stress that circulating adrenaline puts on the body. Emotional/spiritual in the sense that when we are high; we are not present — that, along with the stress involved in creating situations in which our body is triggered to circulate the adrenaline.

Wondering if you are an adrenaline addict? Your score on the following questionnaire will tell the story. Again, no one is saying that you must stop adrenalizing, but if you recognize the cost and wish to make some changes in your life or way of living, then we suggest you work with a coach who understands the adrenaline process and knows how to help you redesign the areas of your life that trigger your need for the rush.

Self-Test

Y	N	Statement
<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	1. I drink coffee or colas or other caffeinated beverages in order to get going or keep going.
<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	2. I eat sugar to calm myself down.
<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	3. I tend to over-promise and then rush to get the project done at the last minute.
<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	4. I arrive at work 'rushed' and already "on".
<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	5. I feel an inner rush or lack of stillness/peace much of the time, and I can't get rid of it.
<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	6. I tend to be impatient with the pace or performance of others.
<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	7. I often drive 10 miles or more over the speed limit or tend to tailgate.
<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	8. I tend to run or arrive late or "just in time." After all, why waste time by being early?
<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	9. It often seems that there is a problem, hassle or difficult situation I'm having to deal with.
<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	10. I don't give myself plenty of time during the day for the things I do know will come up.
<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	11. I love a challenge and pushing through a solution.
<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	12. I get grabbed by surprises or upsetting events and can't calm down for a day or two.
<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	13. I find it boring or difficult to simply hang out with people sometimes. Boring!
<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	14. I am my best when under pressure, especially deadline pressure.
<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	15. Sometimes I wonder if I deliberately set myself up to wait until the last minute.
<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	16. I do not arrive at the airport an hour before my flight.
<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	17. I carry my cell phone, even when I do not really need it.
<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	18. Sometimes I think I unconsciously try to find the hardest way of getting something done.
<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	19. People sometimes complain that I am "not there" with them, even though I am.
<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	20. I tend to be a driven type of person.
		Score (# of Y's)

Scoring
15-20	Certified Adrenaline Junkie
11-14	Unhealthy level of adrenaline is probably coursing through your body.
6-10	Possible adrenaline problem.
0-5	Congratulations! You appear to not have an adrenaline problem.

Form courtesy of and copyrighted by Coach U, www.coachu.com | FB123